NEW THIS WEEK

From the Principal: This week marks the final stretch of the school year. All the students are getting prepared for summer. Talks of getting together over the summer and setting up playdates have already begun circulating. With all these plans, the students are beginning to get excited. Plans, however, do not always go according to plan. Weather may cause family trips to be cut short, friends get sick, family is unable to travel: all of these examples are why plans may fail. With these plans, it makes me think of the one plan that did not fail: Christ's coming. We were told throughout the Scripture of this plan. Everything was laid out. The plan then worked! Christ came into this world of sin to take sin upon himself for us. So when our plans fail (and they most certainly will) may we keep the joy of the one plan that perfectly worked.

Blessings on the rest of your week!
